Dropping the class:

If you decide to drop this class, it is required that a drop slip be submitted to the Admissions and Records Office to avoid a failing grade.

Academic Integrity Policy:

Academic integrity means doing academic work in a manner that strives to achieve the learning objectives your courses have set out for you. It means that you follow the rules and procedures prescribed by your instructors so that you acquire the skills and knowledge your courses are designed to give you. It means you engage in ethical practices in taking tests and doing assignments and that you respect intellectual property rights by fully disclosing sources of information that appear in your papers and presentations.

Academic integrity pays off by ensuring that you get the education that you are working and paying for and that all students are playing from a level field. Academic integrity maintains the good reputation of the college and guarantees the value of your education.

Classroom Etiquette:

Every person in the classroom deserves to be treated with respect. Please participate as part of the team in establishing a classroom with an environment where learning is maximized, respectful, productive, and enjoyable. In order to achieve this goal, the following classroom procedures shall apply:

1. Cell phones and all other electronic devices must be turned off during class. Do not answer your phone in class. It should be placed in your backpack, purse, or pocket during class. There will be a one grade deduction for each violation of this policy (an "A" grade for the class would become a "B" grade for one violation, a "C" grade for two violations, etc.).
2. Grade restoration – if the cell phone policy is violated and a grade point deducted from the student's final grade, the student may restore the lost grade point by preparing a research assignment provided by the instructor, with a passing grade, that is a minimum of five typed double-spaced pages, and making a class presentation addressing the research assignment.
3. If an emergency call is expected, the professor must be notified in advance prior to class. Instructions will be provided with respect to the matter.
4. It is expected that students will be on time and prepared for each class session.

College Policies:

It is the responsibility of the student to read and follow all policies of the college. An important policy addresses time lines for adding or dropping classes. If the student elects to drop this class, it is the student's responsibility to do so using Web-Advisor. Failure to do so within the established deadlines may result in a failing grade or not receiving credit for a class.

Accommodations:

Students needing accommodations should inform the instructor. If you have difficulty seeing or hearing, or mobility difficulty, please let me know so that you can be seated appropriately. This class uses universal design principles and is designed to be as inclusive as possible. As small changes can make a difference between frustration and success, please let me know if you are having difficulty with materials or in class. If you have an accommodations letter, please give me a copy so that we can meet and discuss any accommodations you need to be successful in class. As required by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), accommodations are provided to insure equal access for students with verified disabilities. To determine if you qualify or need assistance with an accommodation, please contact ACCESSIBILITY SUPPORT CENTER, Room 1073, (831) 479-6379.
